Success

Success in anything is fulfillment. You are more productive when your workspace is working with you not against you. Recreation is more rewarding, restoring and fun when you are one with your own nature. Squirrel Farm helps you build that critical zip line between who you are and what you do that enhances your sense of well-being.

Synergy

Your environment is an extension of who you are. When your unique personality is expressed in your surroundings, you come alive to full potential. When your inner and external worlds are in harmony the synergy makes life richer and more rewarding. Squirrel Farm is here to curate your essential elements for achieving balance.

Serendipity

You know when you feel energized by your surroundings. Because everything feels effortlessly right. Everything flows. Form doesn't follow function: Form and function are one. You don't have to waste time and money waiting for happy accidents to find you. Squirrel Farm is here to make the magic happen.

Squirrel Farm

Squirrel Farm welcomes challenges in any form. From offices to business parks, condos to cabins, our goal is to amplify the client sites structural potential. Chris Andrae, Squirrel Farms CFO, Chief Farming Oracle has over twenty-five years of experience in landscaping, design, communications and problem-solving. Andrae uses permaculture principles, Feng Shui concepts and years of observation in traditional societies where human activity and physical spaces are seamlessly integrated.

Living Proof

Squirrel Farm - where I live and work - is a permaculture experiment, an evolving demonstration environment where people work with one another and with the land. From the rooms we wake up in, to the network of people we work with, we are discovering new edges and defining new zones - and learning where the connections can take us. Landscape and timescape intersect wherever the earth touches us.... simple as that.

I found out years ago that, as one person on ten acres, I would have to work with Nature, not against her. It all begins with seeing - not just looking, listening not just hearing and laughing.

At Squirrel Farm we offer residential and commercial design services as well as hands-on experience of that elusive Eureka! moment born out of finding solution within problems.

Itinerary

- Squirrel Farm offers a year round roster of services:
